

Drama, and The Picture Plays

Hazel Lake, soubrette, with Teal's big show at the Empress.

Jane Lee, Louise Rial and Genevieve Blinn. Truly this is a galaxy of stars for one photoplay. The picture will show again today and tomorrow.

On the screen of the Lamara Tuesday and Wednesday will be presented the new Equitable feature, "The Devil's Toy," with the beautiful Adele Blood, Edwin Stevens and Montague Love. This picture deals in a highly sensational manner with one thrilling story of a man who offers his soul to Satan to achieve his material ambitions.

The many admirers of George Beban, the brilliant character artist, whose picture, "An Alien," created a furore, will be interested in the announcement that he is to appear on Thursday and Friday as the star of a new World Film feature entitled "The Pawn of Fate," in which he gives another vivid and colorful characterization.

Doris Pawn's first work in a William Fox picture showing on Saturday calls for work more strenuous and dangerous than most women have ever been asked to do for the screen. She figures in all of the feats of horsemanship and daring that are performed by the gentlemen who have been working for R. A. Walsh, the action-loving director who made the now famous Fox "Carmen."

THE ARIZONA is starting the week with the loss of a star than Bessie Barrisole in a part which would try the abilities of even a greater star than she. The subject of her latest success is "The Last Act." Miss Barrisole is cast as a young actress down and out. A wealthy woman picks her up on the street, and with a discreet loan of cash starts her on the high road to success. Later her benefactor's husband falls in love with her. She returns it, and is about to flee with him, when she discovers that he is the husband of the woman who started her on the high road to success. "The Last Act" will be shown Sunday and Monday only.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, Manager Nace considers that he has secured a real headliner in the Wolf Hopper's version of Don Quixote, the eminent old theorist of Cattle. Hopper is making southern atmosphere, and of course a romance of a most delicate nature, topped off naturally with the personality of Miss Dawn.

Friday and Saturday, Blanche Sweet will be at the Arizona in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Ragmuffin," written by Wm. C. DeMille, noted dramatist, who also looked after the production of the picture. Miss Sweet since her first appearance on the screen has by her wonderful dramatic instinct and charming personality placed herself as a leading star among a multitude of colonial luminaries. She will take the part of a girl of the dunes, this being a character part totally unlike anything in which she has heretofore appeared.

THE COLUMBIA this week has a number of exceptional offerings. The booking sheet of this handsomest of Arizona theaters, records the coming of some of the most talked of picture products of the current season. They will be brought to the Columbia as fast as they can be looked by the coast exchanges.

"The Yampi" with Hobart Bosworth, taken at Tempe last winter, is the first of the most widely known, and coming as it does right at the height of the Mexican trouble and dealing with the persecution of the Yampi it should find, aside from its local draft, a potent punch.

Society will welcome in the very near future the six-reel picture, "The Whirl of Life," a story of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle, who need no introduction to dancers.

James J. Corbett, whom all critics agree is the one and only boxer-actor in the world, will be seen in a play that he used for two seasons in the Klay & Kranger house, "The Burglar and the Lady."

Leve Wallace's "Prince of India" is an assured heading, with fast but not least Henry B. Walthall, the Mainfield of the screen, will come in a five-reel picture play, "The Birth of a Man."

This is but a partial list of the really good things that are booked at the Columbia for the summer months for that is one theater where the heat has no terrors for the management.

THE LION THEATER makes a strong bid for patrons the coming week with a great array of feature pictures. Today the feature attraction is Howard Estabrook and Emmy Wehlen in a Knickerbocker star release, "The Master Smiles," the master in this case being the devil. It is a splendid drama. A little Reeves comedy, "The Election Bet," and the Selig Tribune News Weekly round out a good show.

Scene from "The Hunted Woman" featuring the noted actress, Virginia Pearson, at the Lion theater Friday and Saturday.

an educational value. In addition to this, the Arizona will be showing a Keystone comedy with Ford Sterling playing the lead part, called "His Pride and Shame." The picture is of the usual Keystone description guaranteed to produce ten laughs to the second.

For Thursday only, beautiful Hazel Dawn will come to town with her winsome smile and captivating ways. She will be at the Arizona in "My Lady In-Com," a clever detective tale embodying

Monday and Tuesday a big patriotic picture will be presented at the Lion and one that every American should see. "The Hero of Submarine D-2" is adapted from "Colton C. S. A." by Cyrus Townsend Brady and was made with the co-operation of the U. S. navy. The plot of the story is thrilling and allows opportunity to display the entire Atlantic fleet in action. Chas. Richmond, who played the lead in "The Battle Cry of Peace" in the leading character, performs the thrilling feat of being shot out of a torpedo tube from a submarine seemed as an eleven hour attraction, the best singing team on the coast, Tracy and Carter, who will feature the newest song of the east, "Don't Bite the Hand that Feeds You." A song that tells hyphenated Americans to go back to the country that sent them to this land of easy money if they don't like the good old United States. The team will sing several other specialties, brand new to the vaudeville stage in this section. No advance in prices for this act. The usual program of pictures, (Gale Kane in "Her Great Match," being the feature, will be offered for the day. A matinee at 2:30 and two shows at night will be the program.

WILLIAM FOX PRODUCTION
At the Lamara Today

In order to save the fleet, "The Hero of Submarine D-2" will be shown Monday and Tuesday only as Wednesday and Thursday Mignon Anderson will be the attraction in "The Mill on the Flood," a five-act adaptation of the novel by George Eliot. From now on the Lion will show a five-reel feature each Wednesday and Thursday, with "The Strange Case of Mary Pave" as an added attraction.

Friday and Saturday, the famous actress, Virginia Pearson, will appear in "The Hunted Woman," by James Oliver Curwood. This is a guaranteed attraction and one that should not be missed.

The Lion will shortly show Charlie Chaplin in "A Baroque on Carmen." It is in four reels and said to be the greatest picture he has appeared in. The Lion also has contracted for all the Chas. Chaplin comedies made by the Mutual for which he receives $60,000 for one year's work. The first one will be announced by the Lion at an early date.

Chandler News Notes

Chandler School Grows

In order to care for the sophomore class which will be graduated from the Chandler school in May, a junior year has been added to the course of study by the trustees. A temporary building will be used for the primary, to give room for the additional grade.

Miss Grace Wright, a graduate of the University of Southern California, will teach languages in high school this coming year, and Miss Gracella Pulver, of the Kansas State Normal, will have charge of English and music. Miss Pulver holds a music supervisor's diploma and has had a number of years' experience as a teacher.

Miss Rutha Gray, who taught second grade last year, has been reappointed.

To Visit Ajo

M. P. Freeman motored to Ajo Thursday, taking with him George Frye, D. A. Jacobson, C. M. Sloan and Y. P. Yarbrough. They plan to return Sunday.

Yaqui Easter Dance

The Easter dance by the Yaqui Indians will be held at Guadalupe five miles south of Tempe, Saturday night. The ceremony is scheduled to commence at sundown and the dancing to continue through the night. A number of Chandler people plan to witness the ceremony.

Chandler Water Company Formed

The Chandler city water works which has been operated by the Chandler Improvement company has been taken over by the Chandler Water and Power company, a corporation which has just been organized with a capital stock of one hundred thousand dollars. The incorporators, who are also named as directors and officers are, A. J. Chandler, president; W. H. Robinson, vice president, and Ernest J. Koch, secretary and treasurer.

Easter Services

Special Easter services will be held at the different Chandler churches Sunday. At the Methodist church instead of the usual sermon, the Methodist and the Christian Sunday schools will unite in a union service with an interesting program with Easter music as a special feature. In the evening Oris Holdren will speak at the L. D. S. hall on "Mutual Service."

To Subdue Queen Creek

On Tuesday a meeting was held in Chandler to consider the best way to control the flood waters of Queen Creek. It was decided to first make a preliminary survey of the entire situation and G. H. Kince was appointed chairman. Arthur E. Price was chairman of the meeting. Both the reclamation service and the Arizona and Eastern railroad were represented.

Baby Drinks Coal Oil

The year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. R. Wigley narrowly escaped death when, on Sunday last, mistaking it for water, he drank a cup of coal oil. Dr. F. C. Jordan was sent for and prompt measures by him saved the child's life.

P. T. A. Elects President

The Parent Teachers' Association at its annual meeting at the school house Friday afternoon, re-elected Mrs. J. W. White as its president. Miss Mabel Mulcahy was elected secretary.
